“Where did he go?!” asked Bruce very confused. “He was here last night.”
“I don’t know,” said Luke Skywalker.
Then he gasped because Raymond’s new lightsaber was still on his bed.
So, he woke up Raymond’s classmates, and he gave everyone of them a blaster rifle.
“You can use these if we meet any stormtroopers. I will teach you how to do that,” Luke Skywalker told them.
He gave instructions to Kirin, “This is a stormtrooper’s helmet. You can try the blaster first.”
Kirin shot at the helmet and it blew into many pieces.
“That’s garious!” said the classmates.
“Now you guys can try one-by-one,” Luke Skywalker said as he showed each one of them how to aim and shoot the blaster.
Some classmates missed, but most of them got it. They practiced until they were experts.
“Raymond’s Cruiser is still here. Let’s board it and go find him,” said Luke Skywalker. “I’m sure we can find where he has gone. I hope he is okay.”

“What do you think happened?” asked Bruce.

“I’m not sure, but it must be the force. I will look into the future to see where we can find him,” Luke Skywalker suggested.

“Why not the past? That way we can see how he went missing,” Gordon asked.

“It’s too hard to see the past, plus, what good would it do. We need to know what is going to happen. It is better,” Luke Skywalker responded.

He closed his eyes and his forehead had many wrinkles as he concentrated on the future.

Then he opened his eyes, and said, “I’ve got nothing. That is really strange. Why didn’t it work?”

He was really confused.

“Somebody’s force is really strong. They don’t want me to see into the future. Who could that be?” he asked himself very baffled.

He closed his eyes again, and this time he saw something. He lifted his head quickly and said, “I’ve got something. I see two shadows, and one shadow had two green lightsabers and one had a single red lightsaber. They are fighting, but I can’t see who they are. Maybe the man with two green lightsabers is Raymond.”

“How can this be? His lightsaber is still on his bed?” Kirin asked.

“You have forgotten. He made many lightsabers with the 3-D printer. I’m sure he can get one easily,” Gordon told him.

Luke Skywalker closed his eyes again, and said, “I see something else. One of the green lightsabers cut the red lightsaber in half. Now the person with the red lightsaber is on the ground, but Raymond is not killing him.”

“Who would the shadow with the red lightsaber be?” asked Sophie, one of the girls from Raymond’s summer camp.

“Do you know where Raymond is right now?” Gordon asked.

“Let me try again,” Luke Skywalker then closed his eyes and concentrated. “I’ve got it! Hurry let’s get the on Cruiser in the kitchen. He is there, and if we don’t hurry, he won’t make it back. There are more Dark Side Jedi’s coming. We have to save him!”

The Cruiser took off, left the Resistance Base and headed to the kitchen. When they got there, they saw a First Order Star Destroyer. The Cruiser was flying at light speed, so the Destroyer did not know they were there.

“Let’s get that First Order Star Destroyer!” yelled Kirin.

So, Luke Skywalker pushed the button with the fly on it, and then turned the Cruiser straight at the First Order Star Destroyer at light speed right up the center.

Bruce and Luke took control of the Cruiser while the rest of the crew put on Stormtrooper uniforms, including Luke Skywalker who was going to lead them into battle.

The Cruiser came to a soft landing next to an entry point that Luke Skywalker knew about from the last time he was on a First Order Star Destroyer.

“Follow me, we can get into the lower level easily from here. Stay in line and don’t say anything. We must make them believe we belong there. I’m not sure what we will do once we are on the ship, so follow my lead.

They left the ship and acted like they were part of the crew.

Meanwhile, in Supreme Leader Snoke’s throne room onboard the Frist Order Star Destroyer, Supreme Leader Snoke pushed a button on the arm of his throne, and said, “TK-333 stormtrooper, bring your group to my throne room now!”

Luke Skywalker heard the command on his stormtrooper helmet, and replied, “Yes sir. We are on our way.”

Luke Skywalker and the rest of the classmates marched through the hallway and onto the elevator to the throne room.

When they arrived, they stood in formation waiting for orders from Supreme Leader Snoke.

“You should turn into the Darkside, young man,” Supreme Leader Snoke said to a boy who was in front of him in a dark cape.

The young man fell on his knees with his head down.

But he said, “NEVER!”

Luke Skywalker recognized Raymond’s voice.

Then, Supreme Leader Snoke, sent lightning bolts at Raymond. Raymond fell back. Luke Skywalker could see that Raymond’s eyes were still black, not yellow. That meant he was still a Jedi!

The Supreme Leader Snoke used the force to grab Raymond’s throat so he couldn’t breathe anymore, but Raymond could still talk.

He said, “NEVER! Even if you try to kill me, I will NEVER turn to the dark side!”

Supreme Leader Snoke released Raymond and ordered someone to kill him. It was Paul! And standing next to him was Tony. He had turned them to the Dark Side!

“No wonder I couldn’t find them to join us. They have gone to the dark side, but that doesn’t matter. They will never defeat me!” Raymond yelled at Supreme Leader Snoke.

Paul and Tony opened their red lightsabers. Raymond jumped up off the floor. From under his cape he pulled out two green lightsabers and turned them on.

He took off his cape and threw it to Supreme Leader Snoke.

“Here, hold this for me while I take care of these two traitors!” Raymond taunted.

Raymond turned to face Paul and Tony.
The lightsabers hit each other, and sparks flew everywhere. Paul and Tony showed that they had been practicing with the lightsabers, but they were no match for Raymond. He was much better than they.

Paul and Tony jumped up, but not as high as Raymond. Raymond blocked their lightsabers. Tony and Paul fell backward toward Supreme Leader Snoke.

Just then, Supreme Leader Snoke, ordered something to the stormtroopers, “Kill this traitor!”

But they did not obey.

Instead, Luke Skywalker and the stormtroopers attacked the guards who were protecting Supreme Leader Snoke, and then quickly aimed their guns at him, but did not shoot.

“What?!” yelled Supreme Leader Snoke. “How can this be happening?”

Luke Skywalker used the force to break the armor of the guards, and then removed his armor to show Supreme Leader Snoke it was him.

Then he activated his lightsaber. The green blade glowed, showing that Luke Skywalker was ready for a fight.

Meanwhile, Raymond, Tony and Paul were still fighting. Raymond knocked Paul lightsaber to the floor and then did the same to Tony. He closed his eyes and used the force to bring them back to the light side.

Tony and Paul shook their heads and then saw Raymond.

“What just happened?” asked Paul.

“You turned to the dark side said Raymond. “And you fought with me. Quick pick up your lightsabers and join the fight against Supreme Leader Snoke.”

They did as Raymond told them to do and then, they faced Supreme Leader Snoke who was already afraid of Luke Skywalker.
Suddenly, Supreme Leader Snoke disappeared.

“Where did he go?” Raymond asked as he looked around the room, but not seeing Supreme Leader Snoke anywhere.

“He must have used the force to escape, but that doesn’t matter. We will destroy the First Order Star Destroyer. That way he can’t use it to attack the Resistance base,” Luke Skywalker said with a big smile on his face.

Everyone left the throne room and boarded the Cruiser.

Raymond jumped into the pilot’s seat and Luke Skywalker sat beside him.

“I have a strong bolt on the Cruiser that can destroy the First Order Star Destroyer,” Raymond answered.

“A bolt, you know, the strongest energy field ever made,” Raymond responded.

“There is no time to explain. Let’s just destroy the First Order Star Destroyer and then get out of here,” Raymond ordered.

He flew the cruiser away from the First Order Star Destroyer then turned to face it. He lifted a panel on his dashboard and under it was a round ball. He spun the ball as fast as he could and then punched it. A green canon shot out very fast. A trail of energy followed behind it, then it hit the First Order Star Destroyer and it blew into pieces.

“Ya hoo!” shouted all the members of the crew.

“My mom is going to make me clean up this mess when I get back,” He thought to himself.
“Alright, let me check to see if everyone is here,” said Raymond. “Luke Skywalker?”

“Here,” he responded.

But then he said, “Ming Ming?”

No one responded.

Raymond questioned again, “Ming Ming?!”

Still no response.

“Where is Ming Ming?” asked Kirin.

“I don’t know, let me get something straight. I will look into the past,” Raymond informed them.

Raymond opened his eyes very fast.

“She was caught by the Supreme Leader Snoke. SUPREME LEADER SNOKE IS ALIVE!” Raymond was shocked.

“Where is he?” asked Luke Skywalker.

“They are at the Resistance Base!” yelled Raymond.

“WHAT?!” Luke Skywalker was shocked. “Let’s get back to the Resistance base as fast as we can!!”

So, Raymond pushed the lightspeed button. One second later they arrived at the base.

Raymond jumped off the Cruiser and ran across the base, while he pulled the lightsabers out of his belt. Then he heard a scream and ran to the place where the scream came from.

There he saw Supreme Leader Snoke holding a gun aimed at Ming Ming. None of the Resistance pilots were there as well as Poe Dameron.
“Supreme Leader!” yelled Raymond. “Come on!!! This between you and me now!”

Supreme Leader Snoke looked at Raymond, then Raymond felt a very strong pain in his head.

“Ouch!!!” he screamed.

Then everything became very fuzzy. He couldn’t see anything clearly. He could only hear Supreme Leader Snoke saying, “You’re a big traitor! I’m going to kill your classmates for revenge.”

Supreme Leader Snoke used the force to shoot out lightning bolts at Raymond.

“OUCH!!!!” Raymond yelled out as he fell to the floor. He didn’t know what was happening. He blacked out.

When he finally woke up, he saw all his classmates surrounding him as well as Poe Dameron.

Luke Skywalker said, “Whoa, the little fella woke up!”

Raymond sat up to see what was happening, but then he really woke up, and he realized that what had happened was just a dream. He was now a human on his bed alone in his room.

“What’s happening to me?” Raymond said.

He turned on the video recorder to see what had happened. The video recorder went silent, and then it exploded.

“Oh NO!” yelled Raymond. “All of my hero stories were on it!”

Then Raymond thought, “What about my classmates. What happened to them?”

Raymond got up and went into the living room. When he walked in he gasped. He saw his classmates and they were human and lying on the floor.

“What, they are dead?!” yelled Raymond.

He looked out the window, and he totally freaked out. His house was in the First Order Star Destroyer!

“What? This can’t be true. I must still be dreaming!” Raymond exclaimed.
“No, you are not dreaming,” a voice behind him said.
Raymond turned to face the man. It was Luke Skywalker and he was a human too.

Raymond replied, “Wait, the Star Destroyer……”
“We now are in the real universe. Supreme Leader Snoke and his stormtroopers have turned into humans,” Luke Skywalker informed Raymond.
“What about my classmates?” questioned Raymond.
“They went unconscious like you before. Now they are sleeping. They will be OK,” Luke Skywalker told him.
“How can we defeat Supreme Leader Snoke? We are now human, and I don’t have the force now,” Raymond was worried.
“You still have your force, and so do I,” answered Luke Skywalker.
Luke Skywalker and Raymond woke up his classmates.
Paul sat up, looked confused and asked, “What’s happening? How did we get here?”

Just then, something said from behind Luke Skywalker and Raymond, “Do dee do dee do. Video recorder time.”
Luke Skywalker and Raymond turned their heads to face the man. It was Poe Dameron. He is also now a human. In his hands he had a brand-new video recorder.

“Whoa!” said Raymond. “Can we see it?”
“Sure!” said Poe Dameron. “I will help to explain what is happening to us.”
They turned on the video recorder playback and watched the events up to the house now on the Star Destroyer. It showed Supreme Leader Snoke using the force to change everything.
“How did you get this recording?” Luke Skywalker asked.

“I fixed it. Also, I had a secret camera on my weapon belt that Supreme Leader Snoke did not know about,” Poe Dameron related.

“But what happened to you when you were a Lego man?” asked Raymond.

“When Supreme Leader Snoke came to our base, he made us freeze. We could not move. Then he brought us here to this universe and changed us into humans. Then to our surprise all of you arrived here as well. I think your world is in big trouble. If we don’t stop Supreme Leader Snoke, I think your planet will disappear. We need to think fast if we are going to survive,” Poe Dameron.

Raymond’s classmates gasped!

Raymond used the force to make the Lego Lightsabers into full size and then he gave Paul and Tony the Lego guns he had made. They looked funny, but they were very dangerous. They can kill a human in half a second.

“Be careful with these things!” Raymond instructed them

“What are we going to do with these?” Tony asked.

“Well, I already have an idea,” said Raymond as he ran to the widow and used his fist to break it. Glass flew everywhere.

“Come on! Follow me!” ordered Raymond. “We are going to attack the stormtroopers and capture Supreme Leader Snoke. He doesn’t know who he is messing with. He has made me angry. It is time for him to die!”

Raymond led the way, and everyone followed him out the window. Poe Dameron was last and made sure that they were safe from anyone who might follow.

Slowly the moved from place to place killing the stormtroopers they met. It was a big surprise. Fortunately, none of Raymond’s friends were hurt.

One hour later, the only enemy on the Star Destroyer is Supreme Leader Snoke, but he is still very powerful.

Raymond and his small army enter the throne room. Supreme Leader Snoke is not surprised to see them. He has his hand on blue glowing ball next to his throne.

“When I squeeze this, your planet will disappear. Don’t tempt me. I am not afraid to die,” Supreme Leader Snoke threatened.

Raymond said, “I am not afraid of you!”

He pointed at the wall, then the ceiling over Supreme Leader Snoke causing him to fall down. The ceiling had fallen hard on his head, and now he was laying on the floor buried under the rubble.

Raymond ordered, “Shoot at the center of the rubble together!”

His classmates did as Raymond had told them.

BLAST! BLAST! BLAST!

There was a scream and then silence.

Raymond used the force to see if Supreme Leader Snoke was still alive.

“He’s still alive. We need to make sure he can’t use the force anymore.” Raymond informed his army.

Supreme Leader Snoke tried to squeeze the blue ball, but Raymond used the force to make it so he couldn’t breathe anymore.

Then Supreme Leader Snoke fell unconscious.

Raymond looked intently at Supreme Leader Snoke, while pointing his lightsaber at him. Suddenly he vanished.

“Where did he go?” Paul asked.

“I sent him back to Legoland. He no longer has the force. He will just be an ordinary Lego man,” Raymond informed him.

“How can we make the Star Destroyer go back to Legoland?” asked Gordon.

“Does anyone know how to use the force?” asked Raymond.

“Wait! How did all of you learn to use the force?” Raymond was surprised at the answer.
“When you were gone, we were taught the force. That’s how we found you,” Gordon spoke up.

“Now that’s really garious!” Raymond was excited that there was now an army of his classmates that knew how to use the force. “I have a plan.”

“What is it?” his classmates asked, very curious of what he was planning to do next.

“I’m going to bring my house onto the Star Destroyer. That way the Resistance Base will be safe. We can also use it to attack any of the Empire that might have become human and we have not found yet. We have to make sure real space is free before we can return to Legoland as Lego men.”

He used the force and they found themselves in front of Raymond’s house on Earth.

So, Raymond and his classmates, along with Luke Skywalker and Poe Dameron, returned to Raymond’s house. Raymond used his Legos to build two engines and two canons. Then he put his engines behind his house and attached them to the wall. He put the canons on the front of his house and attached them as well.

Then Raymond used the force to build a module to control the engines and another control for the canons. He put the switches on the desk in front the window in his bedroom, which looked out over the front yard. Now he had his control room from where he could fly his house.

Then he thought, “I need to be able to turn left and right.”

So, he built thrusters and had his friends attach them to the side of his house. Now he had full control.

“Wait, we need our shields and the invisibility capability as well,” Raymond remembered what he had added to his Cruiser.

He turned to Luke Skywalker and asked him, “Is there anything else I may have forgotten?”
Luke Skywalker was confused, “Why are you making your house into a spaceship? It isn’t very strong, and people are going to be angry when you blast this thing away from the neighborhood. Why don’t you build a new ship out of Legos and then use the force to make it bigger?”

“Now, that wouldn’t be very fun, now would it?” Raymond responded. “Besides, I sense many enemies outside. Some of my neighbors have gone to the dark side. We can beat them before they know what hit them. If I make a Lego ship, it will take too long and then they will have the advantage. They will never think that I have changed my house into a spaceship.”

“Hmm… that seems logical, but rather funny,” answered Luke Skywalker.

Using the force, he moved his house onto the Star Destroyer where they would be able to find members of the Empire and then surprise them with his house.

“The other thing is we need to take our house back to the Earth when we are done,” Raymond described his plan.

Then his house was surrounded by stormtroopers.

They questioned, “What’s that?”

The other one said, “Let’s take a look. I have never seen anything like this before. I think it is called a house, but what is it doing here?”

The stormtrooper was a fool.

Raymond pulled out another Lego gun he had built. It was powerful enough to destroy the whole Star Destroyer, but he knew he should not use it while his house was on it. He only used to threaten the stormtrooper.

He pushed the red switch on the gun, releasing the safety.

“Don’t Move!!!” Raymond yelled out the window of his house down the stormtroopers.

“Huh? Who are you?” they asked.

“Don’t you know me? I am Raymond,” he answered surprised that they didn’t know who he was by now.

“I said, DON’T MOVE!!!” Raymond shouted again.

He pointed his gun at them. Then he pulled the trigger, and nothing shot out, but all the stormtroopers were now dead.

“How did you do that?” asked Bo Yuan, one of Raymond’s classmates.

“I’ll explain it now. It’s a gas explosion gun. I can change the setting so it will be small or large. That was the lowest setting,” Raymond explained. “On the highest setting it can destroy the Star Destroyer.”

“Whoa!” said the entire team. “That’s better than anything you have ever invented.”

“OK, now we need to go back to our work,” said Raymond.

Raymond fired his engines and his house lifted off the floor. He flew out of the Star Destroyer and shot his gun at it. The Star Destroyer blew up, just as Raymond had said. In the distance Raymond saw another Star Destroyer coming.

General Hux was leading a team to fight Raymond. They were coming very quickly, but Raymond was not worried. He opened the reflective shield on his house, and then he shot his gun at the approaching Star Destroyer. Nothing happened, the Star Destroyer didn’t budge.

“What, you lied to us?” Kirin asked.

“You’ll see,” Raymond answered. “I have secretly shot a charge at the Star Destroyer. If I push this button, the Star Destroyer will explode.”

“What are you waiting for?” Kirin continued to be frustrated with Raymond.

“To surprise them. If I shoot the gun and destroy the Star Destroyer immediately, the TIE Fighter will join the fight and it will hard to shoot them down. This way we will have the advantage. I don’t think General Hux knows that my house is really a Residence fighter. We have the element of surprise on our side,” Raymond answered. “I really don’t have time for this. Get back to your job and let me do mine.”

Kirin left.

The TIE fighters appeared from behind the Star Destroyer thinking they could finish off the house easily, but they were wrong.

Raymond’s classmates waited for the TIE Fighter to close and then blasted them, shooting all of them down.

“NOW!” yelled Raymond as he pushed the red button. A few seconds later, the Star Destroyer in the distance blew up.

“WOO!!! That was fun!” the crew shouted. “This house is so garious!”

But out of nowhere a Star Killer Base appeared.

“Where did that come from?” Luke Skywalker said in amazement as he looked out the window at the gigantic planet.

“Don’t worry about it. Let me finish this first,” Raymond said as he was making sure the gun was reloaded and ready to go.

Raymond turned to Luke Skywalker and said, “Watch this!”

He opened the door to his house and jumped out.

“What are you doing!” Yelled Luke Skywalker, but it was too late, Raymond was gone.

“I have to do this in order to finish off the Star Killer. Wait, you’ll see,” Raymond said while he floated away from the house.
Chapter 3

One minute later, the Killer Star Base exploded, and Raymond was gone. Luke Skywalker searched for him, but he could not be found.

“Do you think he died while destroying the Killer Star Base?” Kirin asked.

“I don’t know,” Luke Skywalker answered. “I hope not. We need to keep searching. We can’t assume anything.”

When Bruce looked in the telescope and reported, “Sir, we saw someone floating there. The person is unconscious. Do you think it’s Raymond?”

“Let me see,” said Luke Skywalker as he looked into the telescope.

“Unfortunately, that is only a first order guard.” Luke Skywalker said in a sad voice.

“WAIT! WAIT!!!” yelled Gordon from the other side of the window. “I see something!”

Everyone ran to look out the window, while Luke Skywalker turned the telescope to where Gordon was pointing.

“No, that’s another first order guard,” Luke said. “Keep looking I am sure we can find him.”

Just then, they heard a tired voice coming from the living room, but no one said they said that.

But then, they looked out the window. Raymond was climbing up the outside of the house toward the window! So, they opened the window and grabbed Raymond and pulled him inside. He was badly injured, and he had many wounds on his face.

They took him to his bed and laid him down. Luke Skywalker came and healed him using the force. He needed a new hand and leg. Luke washed his face and the dirt came off, but he had scars from where he was hit by pieces of the Star Killer Base.

Raymond looked in the mirror.

“Am I going to look like this forever?” he said shocked at the image in the glass.

“We don’t know,” Said Paul and Tony together. “It’s not that bad. Somehow you look older.”

“Not funny!” Raymond responded.

“Well, if you didn’t always want to be the hero and do stupid things, you wouldn’t have those scars now, would you?” Luke Skywalker said to him.

“What else do you want me to do? If I hadn’t gone to destroy the Star Killer Base, you all would be dead!” Raymond and answered. “Well, I don’t care about my image. What I care about is that everyone is safe.

“I think we need to take my house back and then for all of us to return to normal. I’m getting tired of the adventure. I need some sleep.”

Raymond went to his desk, took the controls and directed his house back to his neighborhood.

When they returned there were many people, police, firefighters, and reporters standing in front of where his house used to be.

“Oh oh! How are we going to answer the questions about where the house went, and most of all, how it came back?” Gordon asked while staring at all the people in front of the house.

“Don’t you know that I have a plan,” Raymond answered.

“That’s right, you always have a plan,” Paul commented.

“I will use the force to make everyone freeze. When they come back to normal, our house will be just like it was before. Then they will go away,” Raymond told them.
“That’s so garious!” Everyone yelled.

Raymond did as he said. The people in his yard froze. The house settled back where it had been. Paul and Tony got the classmate to remove the engines and the canons. When they finished, Raymond removed the force and then the people could not believe what they saw.

Someone said, “Was that a dream? The house was gone, and now it is back. How did that happen?”

Then they all left. There was nothing to see or report about.

Raymond’s mother returned from the store. She had no idea what had happened.

“We have to get everything back to normal, so my mother doesn’t see what we have been doing. Hurry, we need to get to the blue circles,” Raymond ordered.

He used the force to transport everyone to his play room, and then they jumped into the blue circles and disappeared. Luke Skywalker climbed into a red Ray Wing Fighter and flew across the room to the Resistance Base.

“See you next time!” Raymond yelled out. Then he jumped into the blue circle and returned to normal.

Raymond’s mother walked in and was shocked.

“I told you I wanted you to keep this room clean!” she yelled at him. “Every time I go out you make a bigger mess. Clean it up NOW, before you can have your dinner.

Raymond looked at the mess. It was going to take a long time to clean the room, but he was happy that he had saved the Resistance once more.

The end of this story

No one can know the mystery of the next story, can you?
